

Positive Handling Policy

Introduction

This policy for Hudson Road Primary School also follows the guidance in Positive Handling Policy issued by Sunderland City Council.

The policy should be read in conjunction with other school policies relating to interactions between adults and pupils.

The policy has been prepared for the support of all teaching and support staff who come into contact with pupils and for volunteers working within the school to explain the school's arrangements for the care and control of pupils presenting very challenging behaviour. Its contents are available to parents and pupils. A statement about the school's Behaviour policy is made to parents in the school prospectus.

This statement includes information on the use of reasonable force to control or restrain pupils.

Purpose of policy

Good personal and professional relationships between staff and pupils are vital in our school. It is recognised that the majority of pupils in our school respond positively to all staff. This ensures the well-being and safety of all pupils and staff in Hudson Road Primary School. It is also acknowledged that in exceptional circumstances, staff may need to take action in situations where the use of reasonable force may be required. Hudson Road Primary School acknowledges that physical techniques are only part of a whole setting approach to behaviour management.

Every effort will be made to ensure that all staff in school:

- clearly understand this policy and their responsibilities in the context of their duty of care for taking appropriate measures where

- reasonable force is necessary and
- are provided with appropriate training to deal with these difficult situations.

Implications of the policy

The Education and Inspection Act 2006 stipulates that reasonable force may be used to prevent a pupil from doing, or continuing to do, any of the following:

- engaging in any behaviour prejudicial to maintaining good order and discipline at the school among any of its pupils, whether the behaviour occurs in a classroom during a teaching session or elsewhere within the school (this includes authorised out-of-school activities);
- self-injuring;
- causing injury to others;
- committing an offence;

Individual members of staff cannot be required to use physical restraint. However, teaching and non-teaching staff work in loco parentis and should always operate with an appropriate 'Duty of Care'; they could be liable for a claim of negligence if they fail to follow the guidance within this policy.

The application of any form of physical control places staff in a vulnerable situation. It can only be justified according to the circumstances described in this policy. Staff, therefore, have a responsibility to follow the policy and to seek alternative strategies wherever possible in order to prevent the need for physical intervention.

Reasonable force will only be used as a last resort when all other behaviour management strategies have failed or when pupils, staff or property are at risk.

Definitions

Reasonable force - No legal definition of reasonable force exists. However, for the purpose of this policy and the implementation of it in Hudson Road Primary School:

- positive handling uses the minimum degree of force necessary for the shortest period of time to prevent a pupil harming him/herself, others or property.
- the scale and nature of any physical intervention must be proportionate to both the behaviour of the individual to be controlled, and the nature of the harm they might cause.

Physical contact - Situations in which proper physical contact occurs between staff and pupils, e.g. in the care of pupils with learning disabilities; in games/PE; to comfort pupils.

Physical intervention - This may be used to divert a pupil from a destructive or disruptive action, e.g. guiding or leading a pupil by the hand, arm or shoulder with little or no force.

Physical control/restraint - This will involve the use of reasonable force when there is an immediate risk to pupils, staff or property. It is important to note that the use of 'reasonable force' should be seen as a "last resort".

The level of compliance from the pupil determines whether or not the interaction is an intervention or a control/restraint.

Underpinning values

Everyone attending or working in this school/provision has a right to:

- recognition of their unique identity;
- be treated with respect and dignity;
- learn and work in a safe environment;
- be protected from harm, violence, assault and acts of verbal abuse.

Pupils attending Hudson Road Primary School and their parents have a right to:

- individual consideration of pupil needs by the staff who have responsibility for their care and protection;
- expect staff to undertake their duties and responsibilities in accordance with the school's policies;
- be informed about school rules, relevant policies and the expected conduct of all pupils and staff working in school;
- be informed about the school's complaints procedure.

The school will ensure that pupils are given support to understand the need for and respond to clearly defined limits, which govern behaviour in the school.

Authorised staff

In Hudson Road Primary School: all staff are authorised to use reasonable force within the context of The Education and Inspection Act 2006 - 'The use of reasonable force to control and restrain pupils'.

The school provides training for all staff and the Headteacher retains a list of all those staff trained. The list is reviewed on an annual basis (or more frequently if the context requires it).

The Headteacher is responsible for making clear to whom such authorisation has been given (in what circumstances and settings they may use force and for what duration of time this authorisation will last).

The Headteacher will ensure that those authorised are aware of, and understand, what the authorisation entails.

Those whom the Headteacher has not authorised will be told what steps to take in the case of an incident where control or restraint is needed.

Training

It will be the responsibility of the Headteacher to arrange suitable training. Training for all staff will be made available. No member of staff will be expected to undertake the use of reasonable force without appropriate training. Prior to the provision of training, guidance will be given on action to be taken. Arrangements will be made clear as part of the induction of staff and training will be provided as part of on-going staff development.

At Hudson Road we follow the training offered by Sunderland Local Authority. This is called: TEAMTEACH.

This is offered by trained personnel over an intense one-day course. It offers the trainees simple strategies to support young people at risk of harming themselves or others. It is only used as a last resort when other strategies have failed or when quick action is needed.

There are several members of staff who can be called upon in such situations.

The 'incident' is always recorded on a pro-forma kept in the Deputy Headteacher's office. Parents and carers are informed if TEAMTEACH has been used.

Hudson Road Primary School acknowledges that physical techniques are only a part of a whole setting approach to behaviour management. The governors of the school will ensure that:

- the behaviour policy is reviewed on a two-year cycle at least;
- training will be delivered on a needs-based approach and procedures are in place to monitor incidents, following a behavioural audit and implementation of appropriate risk management procedures;
- All training will include theory on at least the following:
 - causes of challenging behaviour;

- prevention strategies;
 - positive behaviour management;
 - de-escalation;
 - risk assessment;
 - behaviour support planning;
 - de-briefing following incidents.
- Physical techniques are not treated in isolation and the school is committed to ensuring that, as a result of incidents, learning opportunities are created for children that allow them to 'own' and take responsibility for their behaviour.

Conclusion

Procedures need to be in place to ensure that appropriate support is provided for staff and that following an incident pupil/staff relationships are rebuilt and repaired to ensure that a positive learning environment is maintained.

All the techniques used take account of a young person's:

- age;
- gender;
- level of physical, emotional and intellectual development;
- special needs;
- social context, and
- they provide a gradual, graded system of responses.

Where appropriate, Positive Handling Plans are written for individual children and, when appropriate, these will be designed through multi-professional collaboration. These should be included in any Pastoral Support Plans/IEPs.

Risk assessments need to be completed against each child when it is anticipated that physical restraint may need to be used, in the context of identified target behaviour(s) and environments in which they occur. The assessment should identify the benefits and the risks associated with the strategies being proposed.

This policy can be reviewed at any time depending on changes in legislation but there will be a full review in May 2018.
